June 28-July 2 Dermatology for Primary Care Sarasota, FL

The goal of this year's conference is to help the primary care practitioner recognize and diagnose the more common dermatologic problems, effectively treat many of these disorders, and know when to refer patients to a specialist. This five-day conference has workshops on the following topics: common tumors, contact dermatitis, malignant melanomas, wound care, acne, psoriasis, and other dermatologic presentations. Since dermatologic problems often reveal systemic disorders, and the skin is the largest and most accessible organ, this conference is applicable not only to primary care providers but to practitioners from almost any specialty. The conference offers up to 20 Category 1 CME Credits. For more information, call (866) 267-4263, fax (941) 365-7073, e-mail mail@ams4cme.com, or visit the web site (<http://www.ams4cme.com>).
