

Erratum

In the article entitled “A Newly Formulated Topical Triple-Antibiotic Ointment Minimizes Scarring,” by Berger RS, Pappert AS, Van Zile PS, and Cetnarowski WE, which appeared in the June 2000 issue of Cutis®, the authors incorrectly described one of the categorical scoring scales used in the study. Under the subheading Measurements of Efficacy, the 4-point scale was originally described as “none, 1; mild, 2; moderate, 3; severe, 4.”

The scale’s description should have read “Severity was graded on a 4-point scale (none, 0; mild, 1; moderate, 2; severe, 3).”

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.
